NURSING | A.A.S. Two-Year Path to RN

Motlow nursing graduates consistently have a job placement rate of 95-100%.

The Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) nursing degree prepares you to apply to take the National Council Licensure Examination for the Registered Nurse (NCLEX-RN).

The four-semester curriculum emphasizes the application of the nursing core competencies: professional behavior, communication, assessment, clinical decision making, caring intervention, teaching and learning, collaboration, and managing care of a diverse client population.

REQUIREMENTS FOR TWO-YEAR APPLICANTS

To be considered for admission to the Nursing Program at Motlow State, students must first apply, submit required documents, including all transcripts, and be admitted to the college. Prospective nursing students will declare Health Sciences as their major until accepted into the Nursing Program. The Nursing Program admission is competitive, and admission to the college does not guarantee admission to the Nursing Program.

- Take the HESI A2 entrance exam with the required components. The required components are math, reading comprehension, vocabulary and general knowledge, grammar, anatomy and physiology, learning style, and personality test. If you took the HESI A2 exam at another college or if you would like to use a HESI A2 score from a prior year, order your transcript from Elsevier and have them email the transcript to nursingeducation@mscc.edu by the application deadline.
- Have a grade point average (GPA) of 2.75 or greater on a 4.0 scale (GPA is calculated only on the completed general education courses required by the Nursing Program at the time of application).

WHY STUDY NURSING AT MOTLOW

Clinical activities are provided in campus classrooms, area hospitals, extended care facilities, and other health and community agencies. While the majority of the clinical experiences are located within the college's 11-county service area, additional travel is sometimes required.

Graduates are prepared to perform the graduate core competencies for associate degree nurses in the delivery of care. Graduates meet or exceed the state and national mean score on the NCLEX-RN. Graduates contribute to the supply of registered nurses in Motlow State's 11-county service area.
