

PSYCHOLOGY

TN TRANSFER PATHWAY

Psychology is a Tennessee Transfer Pathway.

An associate degree in psychology prepares students for a variety of careers.

With an advanced degree, you could make an average salary of more than $75k per year.
(Occupational Outlook Handbook)

MOTLOW STATE

motlow.edu/psychology

PSYCHOLOGY | TN TRANSFER PATHWAY

PSYCHOLOGY

Study human behavior and the science of the mind and major in Psychology at Motlow State Community College.

Earn either an Associate of Science (A.S.) or an Associate of Arts (A.A.) degree at Motlow. Both courses of study are Tennessee Transfer Pathways (TTPs). TTPs enable you to complete your degree at Motlow and transfer to any Tennessee public university, and several Tennessee private universities, to complete your bachelor's degree.

Psychology is a fascinating field of study where you gain insight into the complex inner workings of the human mind. The Psychology pathway at Motlow provides you with an introduction into the study of human mental and behavioral characteristics.

Many jobs in the psychology field require a bachelor's degree or higher. Earning an associate degree at Motlow can lead to promising careers as psychiatric technicians and aides, and social and human services assistants, among other opportunities.

Career Opportunities

With an associate degree, you can work in many areas, including:

- Teacher's Aide ($12/hour)
- Home Care Aide ($14/hour)
- Family Advocate ($14/hour)
- Youth Counselor ($15/hour)
- Research Assistant ($17/hour)

(Occupational Outlook Handbook)

With an advanced degree, you can work as:

- Neuropsychologist ($90k/year)
- Clinical Psychologist ($81k/year)
- Forensic Psychologist ($60k/year)

(Occupational Outlook Handbook)

